I hope all of you had a great Thanksgiving with family and friends.

Well, we are finally getting some movement on the repair of our building. Checks have been received for the repair now we can get with the contractor and get a contract signed so permits can be applied for. We hope this process won't take very long. This whole has been nothing but a nightmare. Let's all keep our fingers crossed that things go well.

I have been informed that there are changes coming to the FRA as of the first of next year here are just a couple I know of. Officers will be allowed to join the FRA without any previous enlisted service. One other thing I know of is that the cost of Life memberships are going up quite a bit so if you want to have a life membership buy it before the first of next year.

Christmas is just around the corner. Please keep our veterans in mind for help and support.

With that note I'll wish all of you a Merry Christmas and Happy New Year.

Anchors away Shipmates stay warm and safe.
